VIRGINIA DEPARTMENT OF GENERAL SERVICES

Statewide Consulting Services | Category 6: Change Management
Contract Number PF14804C06-09

Allison Partners, LLC is a woman-owned small business founded with the belief that people are at the core of an organization's success. On that foundation, the Allison Partners team provides consulting services to help public, private and non-profit clients seeking to integrate human performance theory and business strategy. By focusing on organizational context as well as individuals' skills and behavior, Allison Partners brings candor and experience to help clients achieve business goals while satisfying employees' needs.

Conceived and founded by Allison Linney in 2000, Allison Partners is the realization of her vision to establish a company dedicated to providing high-value consulting that enables individuals and organizations to achieve their potential. As Allison Partners has grown in the past 13 years, the firm maintains its clear focus on human performance at both individual and organizational levels. We operate in a manner consistent with the advice given to clients, ensuring that consultants and team members "practice what is preached" and have practical, first-hand understanding of the challenges inherent in sustaining a high-performance organization.

Our Change Management Services

Allison Partners' services in the Change Management consulting category help agencies, departments and teams navigate changes in strategy, culture, business process, systems, reporting, structure, and governance. Services provided within this consulting category include:

- Surveys, focus groups, and other assessments of organizational climate and change readiness
- Development of comprehensive change management programs and communication plans to achieve defined objectives
- Facilitation of small- and large-group meetings including town hall sessions, employee briefings, planning forums, and team discussions
- Preparation and delivery of training and learning materials to support change efforts
- Management of change communications efforts
- Coaching of leaders to effectively manage change within their organizations

Ordering Process

Allison Partners is committed to ensuring that our clients get our best advice. From the moment we learn about your need and discuss the services you do (and don't need) until we successfully complete a project, you should feel that we're your partners in achieving your goals. To start the journey, please:

- Contact Allison Linney, President, to describe your situation, needs and requirements
- As needed and appropriate, we'll talk with you by phone or in person to discuss your needs
- We'll provide you with a proposed scope of work, timeline, price and staffing plan using the contract's Price and Quote Workbook
